

Nick Worrall

Bio

Nick Worrall joined the Board of Trustees in September 2018 and also sits on the HR & Employee Engagement Sub-Committee.

Nick has enjoyed a career in HR over 20-plus years. He has worked in senior HR positions in housebuilding, retail, energy and financial services, and is currently Group HR Director of Countryside Properties PLC, a national housebuilder founded 60 years ago in Essex. He is passionate about people, and the genuine difference they can make to any organisation.

Nick graduated from the University of Bradford with a BA (Hons) degree in German and Russian. He is a Chartered Member of the CIPD, the industry body for HR professionals. He is married with two children, and lives near Stansted. His main interest is sport; he is a season ticket holder at Manchester City, his hometown club, and is a qualified cricket coach.