Priority campaign(s) and objective(s)

Creative Minds
International Festival
Open Mics

Progress on priority campaign(s)

Creative Minds – the design brief for the website has gone through, I will be working on the “look” of it over the next few weeks. There will be a launch event by the beginning of March.

Open Mics – dates confirmed for next semester, the December Open Mic is coming up and this will be a collaboration between myself, the Open Mic Society and the Creative Writing Society. Open Mics are now free entry – following regular attendees feedback.

Global Week 2016 (International Festival) – I am still leading on this from the Cambridge side and it is now rebranded, we have a student working on the Media and another on the Marketing.

I need to get students to firm up what they wish to do at the event and more rooms, the latter of which can't be helped however.

For more information on my day to day work please read my report to council!

An update on engagement with coach and mentor/mentee(s)

So far I have met with Stewart and Greg quite often and I think they're doing great work, and I met Nanci in the initial Global Week meeting.

Have arranged to meet Niles but unfortunately was unwell for our meeting and hope to rearrange on my return from Ohio
